The Inroads of Civilization.

A very graphic and pathetic description of the inroads soon to be made by civilization is given by an old man in Tennessee: "But this hyur country's all a goin' to change. It's a goin' to be most everlastin'ly improved, you see. I shan't never be improved; I'm too old. But the old ways is coming to an end. They's men buyin' up thousan's of acres of this land. They'll be railroads built directly, hither an' yan, more'n'll do anybody any good. They'll cut off the woods for fuel an' lumber, an' they'll be mines an' quarries up hyur, they say. An' they'll be mean, dirty little towns laid out, all about. Then, instid o' people drinkin' a little healthy whisky, as we've always done, they'll be forty times as much miserable pison stuff sold an' drunk, an' whoever drinks it'll begin to steal an' lie. I reckon they'll be some mighty fine houses built som'eres along this river, an' they'll put big scientific locks on to their doors, an' thieves'll come up from Cincinnati and Chat'noog', an' break into 'em. They aint never been a lock on to a door in these mountains. But they's goin' to be the all-firedest improvements about hyur, an' I s'pose our people'll larn to steal too; haf to to keep up an' live. An' they'll be some o' them city women hyur, I reckon, from them big places, with their fine feathers, an' their dresses a draggin' on to the ground, an' they'll be the devil to pay among our young men. That's what they call civilization, ain't it, stranger? I tell ye this country'll soon be improvin' like hell, but I shan't live to see much of it, I reckon."

How the Aurora is formed.

The following theory is propounded to account for the observed interrelation of earth currents, magnetic storms, aurora and sun spots. Professor Adams assumes the sun to be a magnet, and infers that changes in his magnetism affect the magnetism of the earth. Further, the sun and moon, by dragging the atmosphere toward them as the earth revolves, may cause that friction between air and earth, and also that evaporation, which together may generate the supply of positive electricity in the air and negative in the earth. "Again," he says, "these tides in the atmosphere will cause the mass of it to lag behind the revolving solid earth, and at a height of thirty or forty miles we have a layer of air which, for air, is a comparatively good conductor of electricity. Here, then, we have, not a lagging of the magnet behind the conductor, but a lagging of the conductor behind the magnet, and hence, according to the laws of Faraday, we may expect a current or a gradual heaping up of electricity in the air in the opposite direction to the earth's crust." Thus, the regular tidal waves in the atmosphere would cause the gradual transfer of positive electricity from the poles toward the equator, either as a current or a mass of air statically charged. "When the air is charged up to discharging point we may get the sudden discharges, such as the aurora in the air and the earth current in the earth; and since the conducting layer of air approaches nearer to the earth in the colder polar regions, possibly within twenty miles of the earth's surface it may be found that the discharge of the aurora may even take place from earth to air by gradual, slow discharge, aided, as it may be, by the state of moisture of the air, and by change of temperature and other causes."

His cries brought assistance, and the machinery was stopped. His clothing was then cut, and he was lowered from his hanging position. Upon examination it was found that several ribs were broken, and that he was badly bruised up, and grave fears are entertained that he is internally injured. He is still suffering agonies.

The trial of the Malley boys and Blanche Douglass for the murder of Jennie Cramer began at New Haven Conn., Tuesday. Jennie Cramer was a beautiful but lively New Haven girl, against whom nothing worse than that she flirted had been said. One August morning her body was found in the water, and medical experts testified that she had been seduced but a few hours before her death. It was then shown that for a time before her death she had been in the company of Blanche Douglass, a prostitute who traveled between New Haven and New York, and with the Malley boys. Enough arsenic was found in her stomach to have killed her. The theory of the prosecution is that the Malleys and Blanche Douglass made way with her when she threatened to expose them. The defense is an alibi. No trial in Connecticut since that of the Rev. Herbert Hayden has attracted so much attention.

PILE! PILE! PILE!

A Sure Cure Found at Last—No One Need Suffer!

A sure cure for blind, bleeding, itching and ulcerated piles has been discovered by Dr. Williams, (an Indian remedy,) called Dr. Williams' Indian Ointment. A single box has cured the worst chronic cases of twenty-five or thirty years standing. No one need suffer five minutes after applying this wonderful soothing medicine. Lotions, instruments and electricities do more harm than good. Williams' Ointment absorbs the tumors, allays the intense itching, (particularly at night after getting warm in bed,) acts as a poultice, gives instant and painless relief, and is prepared only for piles, itching of the private parts, and nothing else.

Read what the Hon. J. M. Coffinberry, of Cleveland, says about Dr. Williams' Pile Ointment: I have used scores of pile cures, and it affords me pleasure to say that I have never found anything which gave me such immediate and permanent relief as Dr. Williams' Indian Ointment.

Indispensable to Merchants Shippers And Producers.

The outside frame of this carrier contains five trays, held in place by fasteners at end of case, as seen in cut. These Trays are constructed in reversible halves. The above cut shows one whole tray filled ready to be placed in case, each egg resting in its cardboard socket in such a manner as to be readily counted, candled, or transferred from tray to tray, or case to case, without rehandling. About the Price of Brick.

MAYSVILLE, KY., April 17, 1882.
Ed. Bulletin: For the benefit of persons desirous of building, I would ask this question. Why is it that last fall brick could be bought for $5.00 per thousand delivered, and now the price is $9.00 for the same amount of material, or nearly double? At the same time there seems to be no demand for brick at all; no one seems to think of building for the reason that material is out of reach in price.

SUBSCRIBER.

The above inquiry has been submitted to one of the leading brickmakers of Maysville, who has furnished the following information: Brick that are now sold in this city at $8 and $8.50 a thousand are worth at Cincinnati, from $9.50 to $11, and the demand there is greater than the supply. There has been a heavy advance in the price of brick all over the country, owing to the increased wages paid for labor, and the increased cost of fuel. The advance has been not only in the price of brick but in all other kinds of building material. Brick are to-day sold in Maysville cheaper than at Cincinnati.

New Millinery Goods.

Miss Lou. Powling, so well and favorably known as a milliner, her lady friends will be pleased to learn, has just received a very large and carefully selected stock of millinery goods and notions, which are now ready for inspection. The stock embraces everything that is new and desirable in the way of laces, collars, edgings, fancy goods, notions and millinery goods generally. The attention of the ladies is called to Miss Powling's facilities for doing all kinds of stamping, and particularly the new style known as the Kensington, which should be seen to be appreciated. The ladies are invited to call. a191tdw.

Preacher's Meeting.

There will be meeting of the preachers living in Mason county, and those having work in the county, irrespective of denominational affiliations, in Maysville, on Wednesday, the 3rd of May, to consider the interests of the temperance cause in the county.

Base Ball.

The first base ball game of the season has been set for next Saturday afternoon at two o'clock on the grounds near Robinson & Co.'s flour mills, between the "Congress" and "Senate" clubs of Sulser, Petry & Co.'s cigar manufactory. As there are a number of good players in each club the game promises to be an interesting one. Everybody is invited.

Leg Broken.

Raymond Vicroy, son of Mr. F. M. Vicroy, of East Maysville, met with a serious accident on Monday last. He was playing on a board pile at the lumber yard of the Kentucky planing mill, and some of the boards falling upon him broke his leg in two places below the knee.

To be Repeated.

It will be gratifying to the public to know that by special request the "Decorative Sisters," so favorably received last week, will be repeated at an early day.

Prices Reduced.

John Wheeler, dealer in oysters, fish, game, fruit, etc., has made a heavy reduction in prices. Fresh fish at six, and eight cents a pound received daily. Canned goods at greatly reduced prices.

New Firm.

Messrs. A. Haucke & Co., manufacturers of cigars and dealers in tobacco and smokers' articles generally, have arranged to go in business next week at Nos. 3 and 5 Sutton street. They are experienced in the business and will put only the best work on the market. We bespeak for them a share of the public patronage.

The National Genuine Export Lager

forms a very pleasant and favorable substitute for ordinary drinking water, so frequently contaminated and unwholesome. Lovers of a good glass of old lager will do well to give the following parties a call: Fred. Otto, Simons & McMurtry, George M. Thompson, F. Schatzmann, Robert Wileet and Ed. Lambden. a145td.

SCHELL'S ADVENTURES.

An Arrest Recalling the Burning of a Ripley Barn and Other Proceedings.

The Cincinnati Commercial of Tuesday says:

About a year ago two colored men, one of whom is known as Paul Schell, rented a barn from J. W. Tweed, at Ripley, Ohio. They put about $300 worth of hay in it, so disposing the bales as to make the barn appear to be full, then insured it for $1,000 with John H. Law's agency. Shortly after this insurance was effected the barn and contents were totally consumed. Schell's partner came down and went to Covington the day before the fire.

The day after the fire, Schell himself came to Cincinnati and demanded the insurance, but his behavior aroused Mr. Law's suspicion, and he had an investigation made which laid open the nature of the transaction. The partner was arrested, but Schell escaped. His partner was afterward killed while trying to make his escape from the jail at Ripley. Schell was arrested several months ago at Helena, Ark., and turned over to Marshal Lokey, of Ripley. On the way back at Memphis, Schell persuaded the officer to remove the handcuffs. The marshal slept in the room of the hotel with his prisoner with the door locked. The next morning, so Schell says, the prisoner refused to have the cuffs put on and the marshal was afraid to insist upon it. All went well, however, until the train on which they traveled reached Newport, Ky., when the prisoner escaped. He managed to reach Ripley before the officer got there, saw his wife and left. After Marshal Lokey arrived the woman went to him to demand the whereabouts of her husband, and Lokey claimed that she had not seen him. These particulars, whether true or not, were gathered from a letter found on Schell's person. The latter could not stay away from Cincinnati, and yesterday he was caught on the landing by Officer Knox and his partner and taken to Hammond Street Station. He went to Ripley in charge of a deputy marshal of that place.

Ohio Avenue is being macadamized. It ought to be done from one end of the town to the other.

The tax-payers in the Upper ward are complaining, and properly, that no work is being done on the streets in that end of the town. We have heard many say they will refuse to pay the road tax unless something is done soon.

Our town is improving and presents a busy appearance. The following persons are building houses: J. O'Harran, two story brick on Ohio Avenue; James Harding, two story frame Second street; Ben. Campbell, frame, Second street; Thos. Chuun, frame, Third street; Primary school house; Dr. Loy's telegraph office; Parsonage for the M. E. Church, Pike street. The band boys, not to be outdone, are going to build a band hall as soon as they can procure a lot. The following persons are rebuilding and improving: John Small, Third street; Peter Rotenbush, Third street; John Sherburne, Third street. P'NAFORE.

HIS ORICAL.

THE Christians of Egypt burnt butter instead of oil in their lamps, in the third century.

THE first admiral of England was Richard de Lucy, appointed by Henry III. in 1223.

IT was not till after the ninth century that copyists began to leave spaces between words in writing.

THE revenues of the 190 abbeys which were dissolved at the Reformation amounted to over £2,000,000.

CALIGULA, not satisfied with building ships of cedar with sterns inlaid with gems, had a pearl collar made for his favorite horse.

BY A STATUTE of George I., buttons covered with cloth were prohibited, that the manufacture of metal buttons might be encouraged.

ACCORDING to contemporary authorities, from 50,000 to 100,000 persons were put to death in the Netherlands during the reign of Charles V., on account of their religious opinions.

UNTIL the seventeenth century neither glass nor soap were manufactured in Scotland. In 1620 the art of tanning leather was introduced there, and paper was first made about the middle of the eighteenth century.

THE influence of John Knox in promoting the Reformation was greater than that of any one man, though his sanction of the murder of Archbishop Beaton, together with various other cruelties, leave a stain on his memory.

TWO of the assassins of Capo d'Istria, President of Greece, were sentenced to be immured in brick walls, built around them up to their chins, and to be supplied with food, in this species of torture, till they died, in October, 1831.

FERDINAND and Isabella issued a decree expelling from Spain every Jew who refused to deny his faith. To make them Christians, or, failing in that, to exterminate them, was the business of the Inquisition, established in the same reign.

NEITHER Columbus nor Cook ever discovered more degraded and brutish beings than were the aboriginal inhabitants of Greece. When Solomon was in all his glory and the Hebrew nation in its unity and greatness, the Greeks were divided into more clans than are our North America Indians.

He Had No Fun in Him.

One of the members of the Methodist Conference held in Detroit was out for a walk at an early hour one morning, and encountered a strapping big fellow, who was drawing a wagon to a blacksmith shop.

"Catch hold here and help me down to the shop with this wagon, and I'll buy the whisky," called the big fellow. "I never drink," solemnly replied the good man.

"Well, you can take a cigar." "I never smoke."

The man dropped the wagen-tongue, looked hard at the member, and asked: "Don't you chew?"

"No, sir," was the decided reply. "You must get mighty lonesome," mused the teamster.

"I guess I'm all right, I feel first rate."

"I'll bet you even that I can lay you on your back," remarked the teamster. "I never bet," replied the clergyman.

"Come, now, let's warm up a little." "I am in a hurry."

"Well, let's take each other down for fun, then. You are as big as I am, and I'll give you the under hold."

"I never have fun," solemnly replied the member.

"Well, I'm going to tackle you, anyway. Here we go."

The teamster slid up and endeavored to get a backhold, but he had only just commenced his fun, when he was lifted clear off the grass and slammed against a tree-box with such force that he gasped half a dozen times before he could catch his breath.

"Now, you keep away from me," exclaimed the minister, picking up his cane.

"Bust me if I don't," replied the teamster, as he edged off.

"What's the use of lying and saying that you didn't have any fun in you, when you are chuck full of it? You wanted to break my back, didn't you?"
